CALL FOR ENROLMENT 2026/2027 – GENERAL PROVISIONS

Applicants are advised to ensure, when completing their application, that they meet or will meet the admission requirements for each study programme; otherwise, the relevant study preference will not be taken into account.

Applicants may, in the first and second application deadline, select up to three study programmes in order of priority for which they meet, or will meet by the deadlines published in this call, the admission requirements. The order of the selected study programmes (preferences indicated in the application) is important, as, under the conditions set out in the chapter on the selection procedure of this call, the applicant will be admitted to the first study programme for which they meet all requirements.

Information on still-available enrolment study places for the second application deadline will be published on 19 August 2026 on the evš web portal, on the websites of the higher education application and information services of the University of Ljubljana, the University of Maribor, the University of Primorska, the University of Nova Gorica, and on the websites of higher education institutions.

Applicants whose selection procedure in the first application deadline has not yet been completed may also submit a second application (including applicants taking the matura in two parts, where the part taken in the autumn examination period is considered, by decision of the competent authority, as a complete matura taken in the spring examination period; applicants taking assessments of special aptitudes, abilities and skills in the autumn period; applicants whose procedure for recognition for the purpose of continuing education has not yet been completed; applicants for whom this has been decided in appeal proceedings; or applicants whose appeal proceedings have not yet been concluded). A second application for enrolment may be submitted from 20 to 27 August 2026. If applicants are admitted to one of the study programmes listed in their first application, the procedure regarding their application in the second application deadline shall be suspended upon their written consent. Applicants shall submit their written consent by the date of publication of the results of the General and Vocational Matura and the Matura examinations in the autumn examination period. If an applicant fails to submit such consent within the period referred to in the preceding sentence, it shall be deemed that they have withdrawn their application in the second application deadline. If applicants are admitted to one of the study programmes in the first application deadline and subsequently enrol in that study programme, their application from the second application deadline shall be excluded from further application and admission procedures and the procedure shall be terminated.

Information on study programmes for which still-available enrolment study places will be offered under the application deadline for still-available enrolment study places will be published on 22 September 2026 on the evš web portal and on the websites of higher education institutions.

An application for enrolment under the deadline for still-available enrolment study places may also be submitted by applicants whose appeal procedure has not yet been concluded and by applicants whose procedure for the recognition of education for the purpose of continuing education has not yet been completed.

Application for Slovenians Abroad

Slovenians abroad shall apply for enrolment to the enrolment study places published in the tables of enrolment study places for Slovenians abroad.

Enrolment study places for enrolment in the first year for Slovenians abroad are determined separately for full-time and part-time study, and the application deadlines are the same as those for nationals of the Republic of Slovenia and nationals of the Member States of the European Union.

Slovenians abroad may submit only one application in the same application deadline, either as a Slovenian abroad or as a national of a Member State of the European Union or as a national of a non-EU Member State.

An applicant who is a Slovenian abroad shall, at the first step of completing the application (“Selection of the call for enrolment and type of application”), answer “YES” to the statement “I am a Slovenian abroad”. At the next step, the applicant must indicate which of the following two categories they belong to:

- Slovenians in neighbouring countries (members of the autochthonous Slovenian national community in all four neighbouring countries – Italy, Austria, Croatia and Hungary);
- Slovenians worldwide and descendants of persons of Slovenian nationality up to the third generation in the direct line (migrants and emigrants residing in neighbouring countries outside the area defined as the Slovenian border region, as well as in other European and non-European countries).

By submitting the application form, the applicant guarantees the accuracy of the information provided in the application for enrolment and thereby confirms that they are a Slovenian abroad, meaning that they fall into one of the two categories listed above. The Higher Education Application and Information Service may request

14. ENROLMENT

Enrolment is carried out at higher education institutions, which invite applicants to enrol either in writing or electronically. Enrolment is completed on the basis of a completed enrolment form.

Enrolment of applicants admitted in the first application deadline will take place from 24 July until no later than 14 August 2026. Enrolment of applicants admitted in the second application deadline will take place from 21 to 30 September 2026. Enrolment of applicants admitted under the application deadline for still-available enrolment study places will take place by 30 September 2026, and, for justified reasons determined by the competent authority of the higher education institution, no later than 30 October 2026, if so decided by the competent authority upon the applicant's request.

After the deadlines referred to in the preceding paragraph, enrolment shall also take place for admitted applicants who applied for enrolment in a higher year (pursuant to transfer criteria or under conditions for accelerated progression), for parallel study, or for enrolment of graduates in integrated master's study programmes.

A student who withdraws from a first enrolment in the first year of a first cycle or integrated master's study programme by 15 October 2026 shall be deemed not to have enrolled in that study programme.

15. NOTICE TO ALREADY ENROLLED STUDENTS

Students who wish to change their study programme and who have not yet exercised this right or their right to repeat a year must apply in the same way as other applicants. This also applies to students who wish to change the mode of study within the same study programme in the first year. Both groups shall submit their application for enrolment via the eVŠ online portal \(https://portal.evs.gov.si/prijava/\)

Applicants who have already repeated a year once or have already changed their study programme once may apply for full-time study; however, tuition fees shall be payable for their studies in accordance with Article 137 of the Higher Education Act.

Applicants who wish to repeat the first year of a study programme in which they were enrolled in previous years shall not submit an application for enrolment via eVŠ. For re-enrolment in the same year of a study programme in which they are already enrolled, applicants must meet the conditions for repeating the year. Information on the procedure and conditions for enrolment for the purpose of repeating a year may be obtained by students from their higher education institution. The same applies to progression to a higher year in a study programme in which the applicant is already enrolled.

Applicants may re-enrol once in a study programme or specialisation in which they were previously enrolled and from which they withdrew. Such applicants shall submit an individual request directly to the higher education institution and not via eVŠ. Tuition fees shall be charged for studies referred to in the preceding sentence (paragraph 7 of Article 137 of the Higher Education Act). Further information may be obtained directly from the higher education institution.

16. EXPLANATION REGARDING THE PAYMENT OF TUITION FEES IN ACCORDANCE WITH ARTICLE 137 OF THE HIGHER EDUCATION ACT

Tuition fees for full-time study may not be charged to citizens of the Republic of Slovenia and citizens of the Member States of the European Union for education provided within first cycle and postgraduate study programmes with public validity that are delivered as a public service financed from public funds.

Notwithstanding the preceding paragraph, citizens of the Republic of Slovenia and citizens of the Member States of the European Union shall be charged tuition fees if they have already attained an educational education at least equivalent to the level of education obtained under the study programme in which they are enrolled.

Under the same conditions as Slovenian citizens (i.e. without payment of tuition fees for full-time study), the following persons may also study at higher education institutions in the Republic of Slovenia:

- Slovenians abroad;
- foreign nationals from non-EU countries who have completed secondary education and passed the Matura in the Republic of Slovenia;
- foreign nationals from non-EU countries who have permanent residence in the Republic of Slovenia and who, or whose parent or guardian, are tax residents of the Republic of Slovenia by the start of the selection procedure;
- persons with recognised international protection, applicants for international protection, and displaced persons with temporary protection;
- nationals of the following non-EU countries: Norway, Iceland, Liechtenstein and Switzerland.

On the basis of signed protocols on cooperation in the field of education, nationals of Montenegro, Kosovo, North Macedonia, Bosnia and Herzegovina, and Serbia shall, for enrolment in the academic year 2026/2027, be treated on an equal footing with nationals of Slovenia and nationals of the Member States of the European Union with regard to the payment of study costs and shall therefore be exempt from paying tuition fees for foreign nationals for full-time study.

Tuition fees shall also be charged to students who have not yet attained an education at least equivalent to the level of education obtained under the study programme in which they are enrolled, and who have already exhausted the right referred to in the second or third indent of the first paragraph of Article 111 of the Higher Education Act (i.e. have already changed their study programme or specialisation, or repeated any year at the same level of study), unless they enrol in a higher year than that in which they were previously enrolled at the same level of study.

Applicants who have already repeated a year once or changed their study programme once may apply for and be admitted to full-time study; however, tuition fees shall be payable in accordance with Article 137 of the Higher Education Act. Tuition fees shall not be charged only if the student enrolls in a higher year than that in which they were previously enrolled at the same level of study.

CALL FOR ENROLMENT 2026/2027 – GENERAL PROVISIONS

Explanatory notes to the table:

- (1) (1) The scale is used for scoring overall achievement (calculated from five subjects) as follows:
 - General Matura: the points for overall achievement obtained in the General Matura are taken into account.
 - International Baccalaureate: the points for overall achievement obtained in the International Baccalaureate are taken into account and converted into the Slovenian grading scale in accordance with the Rules on the Implementation of the International Baccalaureate Programme.
 - Vocational Matura with a possible maximum of 23 points: the points for overall achievement obtained in the Vocational Matura are taken into account. In the case of an additional General Matura subject (the so-called fifth General Matura subject), the points achieved in that subject are also taken into account in the selection procedure.
 - Vocational Matura with a possible maximum of 20 points: the points for overall achievement obtained in the Vocational Matura are taken into account (for the subject Slovene, the grade is converted according to the scale in the column “Scale 2–8” and the difference in points is added) In the case of an additional General Matura subject (the so-called fifth General Matura subject) the points achieved in that subject are also taken into account in the selection procedure.
- (2) The scale is also used for scoring the final examination taken before 1 June 1995 with three subjects, whereby the sum of all grades, which may amount to a maximum of 15, is recalculated to 20.
- (3) The 2–8 scale is used for scoring achievement in the subject of the mother tongue (Slovene, Hungarian, Italian), for other languages in ethnically mixed areas, and for subjects in the General Matura that are also assessed at a higher level of difficulty (mathematics and foreign languages).
- (4) The 2–5 scale is used for scoring achievement in General Matura subjects that are assessed only at the basic level of difficulty.

ANNEX 6: Rules for the evaluation of upper secondary school achievement based on foreign certificates

1. General provisions

For all foreign certificates, a procedure for the recognition of education for the purpose of continuing education in integrated master's, university, or professional higher education study programmes must be carried out.

Pursuant to the Assessment and Recognition of Education Act (Official Gazette of the Republic of Slovenia, No. 87/11 et seq.), the recognition procedure is conducted by authorised persons of universities or independent higher education institutions, who issue a decision on the recognition of the right to continue education. The decision specifies how a foreign educational certificate is to be treated in cases of restricted enrolment and indicates the comparable form of completion of secondary education in Slovenia.

On the basis of the recognition decision, the Higher Education Application and Information Service (hereinafter: VPIS) determines whether an individual meets the general admission requirements for the study programmes selected in their application.

If a decision on restricted enrolment has been adopted for a particular study programme, VPIS must evaluate the individual's academic achievement and grades obtained in secondary education. In assessing foreign certificates, it takes into account the grading scales of foreign secondary education systems.

In the event of deviations from the Rules on the Evaluation of Foreign Secondary School Certificates, the evaluation of secondary school achievement shall take into account the specific characteristics of the individual education system and the grade conversion scale developed for that system.

In doing so, the education and grading system of the foreign country is compared with the regulations applicable in Slovenia:

- the Matura Examination Act (Official Gazette of the Republic of Slovenia, No. 29/08 et seq.),
- the General Matura Rules (Official Gazette of the Republic of Slovenia, No. 29/08 et seq.),
- the Rules on the Assessment of Knowledge in Secondary Schools (Official Gazette of the Republic of Slovenia, No. 30/18),
- the Rules on the Implementation of the International Baccalaureate Education Programme (Official Gazette of the Republic of Slovenia, No. 67/04 et seq.),
- the Vocational Matura Rules (Official Gazette of the Republic of Slovenia, No. 99/01 et seq.),
- the Rules on the Integration of Programmes from European Schools into the Slovenian Education System (Official Gazette of the Republic of Slovenia, No. 25/17).
- Grade Conversion Table for Scoring in Enrolment Restriction Procedures for First cycle University Study Programmes and Integrated Master's Study Programmes,
- Grade Conversion Table for Scoring in Enrolment Restriction Procedures for First cycle Higher Education Study Programmes.

2. Grade Conversion

The following rules shall be applied when converting grades. In individual cases, grade conversion may be adjusted to the specific characteristics of the foreign grading system.

- A scale with three positive grades is assessed as follows: the highest foreign grade is equivalent to the highest Slovenian grade (5 – excellent), the lowest foreign passing grade is equivalent to the lowest Slovenian passing grade (2 – sufficient), and the third (intermediate) grade is equivalent to 3.5 (70 standardised points), which corresponds to the Slovenian grade 4 (very good).
- A scale with four positive grades, regardless of whether they are expressed numerically, by letters, words or percentages, is assessed in accordance with the Slovenian four-level scale of positive grades (excellent, very good, good, sufficient).
- A scale with five positive grades is converted into a four-level scale. If grades on the certificate are also described in words, this shall be taken into account (e.g. the two highest grades are “excellent” – Italy). If such descriptions are not provided, the rule applied in higher education shall be used: the highest grade is “excellent”, the next two are “very good”, the fourth is “good”, and the fifth is “sufficient”.

CALL FOR ENROLMENT 2026/2027 – GENERAL PROVISIONS

- A scale with six positive grades is converted into a four-level scale. If grades on the certificate are also described in words, this shall be taken into account; otherwise, the International Baccalaureate (IB) scale shall be used as a reference: 6 and 7 = excellent (5), 5 = very good (4), 4 = good (3), 3 and 2 = sufficient (2), 1 = insufficient (1).
- If the grading scale stated on the certificate differs from the above conversion rules, that scale shall be taken into account. In cases where there are more than six passing grades or where grades are expressed as percentages and the grading scale is not stated on the certificate, each grade shall be converted using the following formula: $Y - 2 = (5 - 2) / (a - b) \times (X - b)$, where:

a = the highest passing grade in the grading scale;

b = the lowest passing grade in the grading scale;

X = the grade to be converted;

Y = the converted grade;

2 = the lowest passing grade in the Slovenian grading scale;

5 = the highest passing grade in the Slovenian grading scale.

3. Evaluation of Overall Achievement in the Final Two Years of Upper Secondary School table of contents

- For the purpose of determining achievement in the final two years of secondary school, the achievement recorded on the certificate for each individual year shall be taken into account.
- If overall achievement for a particular year is not stated, the average of the applicant's grades in that year shall be taken into account.
- In cases of deviations from the criteria for determining overall achievement, the overall achievement stated in a certificate issued by the secondary school and submitted by the applicant together with the annual final certificate shall be taken into account.
- If an annual certificate shows a failing grade in a particular subject for a given year, but it is evident from the certificate that the student may progress to the next year or is nevertheless permitted to take the final examination, the student shall be awarded a grade of 2 (sufficient) for that subject.
- If overall achievement in the final semester is not stated on the certificate and only permission to take the Matura or final examination is indicated, the final grades of the last semester shall be taken into account in determining the overall achievement for that year.

4. Evaluation of Achievement in Recognised Final Examinations Taken before 1 June 1995 table of contents

- Overall achievement in a recognised final examination taken before 1 June 1995 shall be determined in points by adding together the grades for individual subjects recorded on the final certificate.
- Where two subjects have been passed in the recognised final examination, the sum of the grades for the two subjects shall be taken into account. The maximum possible number of points is 10.
- Where three subjects have been passed in the recognised final examination, the sum of the grades for the three subjects shall be taken into account. The maximum possible number of points is 15.
- Where four subjects have been passed in the recognised final examination, the sum of the grades for the four subjects shall be taken into account. The maximum possible number of points is 20.
- Where five subjects have been passed in the recognised final examination, the sum of the grades for the five subjects shall be taken into account. The maximum possible number of points is 25.
- Where a larger number of subjects (more than five) has been passed in the recognised final examination, the sum of the five highest-graded subjects shall be taken into account as overall achievement. The maximum possible number of points is 25.
- If no grades are stated on the applicant's final certificate (e.g. in the case of a diploma), the same provisions shall apply as for generations of students in vocationally oriented education in Slovenia who were not required to take a final examination. Overall achievement in the final examination shall be determined by adding together the overall achievement in the penultimate and final years of secondary school, expressed in points. The maximum possible number of points is 10.

- If the final certificate expresses final achievement only in percentages (%) or solely as an average value (grade), this shall be taken into account.
- If an applicant's final secondary school certificate does not state grades for individual subjects, the grade from the final year of secondary school shall be taken into account for a specifically required subject in the final examination, where this is determined by the selection criteria for a particular study programme. If the applicant did not take the required subject in the final year, they shall receive zero (0) points for that subject. An applicant may also take an examination in an individual subject in Slovenia in accordance with the provisions of the General Matura Act or abroad. In such cases, appropriate proof of having passed the examination must be submitted. If, in accordance with the selection criteria for a particular study programme, the applicant did not take the specifically required subject in any year of schooling, they shall receive zero (0) points for that subject.
- No additional points shall be awarded for subjects taken at a higher level of difficulty in a recognised final examination.
- If the applicant did not take a subject with exactly the same title as used in Slovenia, but took a similar subject (or several such subjects), the grade(s) from that/those subject(s) shall be taken into account. A subject with a different title may also be taken into account if the secondary school issues a certificate confirming that it includes the content of the required subject.
- Where, in accordance with the selection criteria, achievement in a specific subject in the final year of secondary school is to be scored, and several suitable subjects appear on the certificate, the highest grade shall be taken into account.
- Where a negative grade for a particular subject is recorded on the final certificate, but it is evident from the certificate that the student passed the final examination, the applicant shall receive zero (0) points for that subject. In this case, the total number of points shall be calculated by adding together the grades for all subjects recorded on the final certificate (including the negative grade, counted as zero (0) points). The applicant's total number of points shall be compared with the maximum possible number of points.

5. Assessment of achievement in a Recognised Vocational Matura

- For determining overall achievement in the vocational matura, the same provisions apply as for students who completed the vocational matura in Slovenia (Rules on the Vocational Matura, Official Gazette of the RS No. 99/01 et seq.).
- In the case of restricted enrolment, overall achievement in the vocational matura is determined as follows: in the selection procedure for admission to higher professional study programmes, four subjects are taken into account for overall achievement in the vocational matura: two subjects from the compulsory part of the vocational matura (mother tongue and a professional-theoretical subject) and two subjects from the elective part of the vocational matura (a foreign language or mathematics, and a fourth subject). The maximum possible number of points is 23.
- In the case of restricted enrolment, overall achievement in the vocational matura is determined as follows: in the selection procedure for admission to university study programmes, five subjects are taken into account for overall achievement in the vocational matura: two subjects from the compulsory part of the vocational matura (mother tongue and a professional-theoretical subject), two subjects from the elective part of the vocational matura (a foreign language or mathematics, and a fourth subject), and the grade in a general matura subject. The specified general matura subject must be taken by the candidate in Slovenia in accordance with the provisions of the General Matura Act or abroad. In both cases, the candidate must submit appropriate proof of having passed the general matura subject examination. The maximum possible number of points is 31.

The general matura subject examination must not be in a subject that the candidate has already taken in the vocational matura, except for exceptions published in the annual call for enrolment.

If there are a larger number of subjects (five or more) in a recognised vocational matura, the overall achievement in the vocational matura is determined as follows: for admission to professional higher education programmes, four subjects are taken into account: two subjects from the compulsory part of the vocational matura (mother tongue and a professional-theoretical subject) and the two best-graded subjects from the elective part of the vocational matura (a foreign language or mathematics and a fourth subject). For admission to university study programmes, five subjects are taken into account: two subjects from the compulsory part of the vocational matura (mother tongue and a professional-theoretical subject), the two best-graded subjects from the elective part of the vocational matura (a foreign language or mathematics and a fourth subject), and the grade in a general matura subject. The specified general matura subject must be taken by the candidate in Slovenia in accordance with the provisions of the General Matura Act or abroad. In both cases, the candidate must submit appropriate proof of having passed the general matura subject examination.

- If a candidate has taken several vocational matura subjects that correspond to the required subject, the best-graded subject is taken into account.
- The grade in the mother tongue is scored on a scale from 2 to 8 (higher level). If the candidate's final certificate does not include grades for the general education subjects of the vocational matura (mother tongue and foreign language and mathematics), the grade in the respective subject from the final year of secondary school is taken into account when determining the overall result of the vocational matura. If the applicant did not take the required subject in the final year, they shall receive zero (0) points for that subject. An applicant may also take an examination in an individual subject in Slovenia in accordance with the provisions of the General Matura Act or abroad. In such cases, appropriate proof of having passed the examination must be submitted. If the candidate's final certificate does not include a grade for the vocational-theoretical subject and the fourth subject of the vocational matura, the candidate receives zero (0) points. An applicant may also take an examination in an individual subject in Slovenia in accordance with the provisions of the General Matura Act or abroad. In such cases, appropriate proof of having passed the examination must be submitted.
- If the selection criteria for a specific study programme also include a grade for a specially required general education subject of the vocational matura (mother tongue, foreign language, or mathematics), the grade from the final year of secondary school shall be taken into account in accordance with the selection criteria if this grade is not stated on the candidate's final certificate. If the applicant did not take the required subject in the final year, they receive zero (0) points for that subject in the selection procedure. An applicant may also take an examination in an individual subject in Slovenia in accordance with the provisions of the General Matura Act or abroad. In such cases, appropriate proof of having passed the examination must be submitted.
- If the candidate's final certificate does not include a grade for the specially required vocational-theoretical subject and the fourth subject of the vocational matura, the candidate receives zero (0) points. An applicant may also take an examination in an individual subject in Slovenia in accordance with the provisions of the General Matura Act or abroad. In such cases, appropriate proof of having passed the examination must be submitted.
- If the applicant did not take a subject with exactly the same title as used in Slovenia, but took a similar subject (or several such subjects), the grade(s) from that/those subject(s) shall be taken into account.
- If a negative grade is recorded for an individual subject on the vocational matura certificate, but the certificate shows that the student has passed the vocational matura, the holder of the certificate shall receive zero points for that subject. The total number of points achieved is calculated by adding together the grades for all subjects listed on the final certificate (including the negative grade, which counts as zero points). The applicant's total number of points shall be compared with the maximum possible number of points.

6. Evaluation of Achievement in a Recognised General Matura

- The same rules apply to determining overall achievement in the general matura as apply to students who have completed the general matura in Slovenia (Matura Examination Act, Official Gazette of the RS No. 29/08 et seq., and Rules on the General Matura, Official Gazette of the RS No. 29/08 et seq.).
- In the event of restricted enrolment, for a general matura consisting of five subjects that the applicant may take at different levels of difficulty, overall achievement is determined in the selection procedure on the basis of three compulsory subjects (mother tongue, foreign language, and mathematics) and two elective subjects of the general matura.

CALL FOR ENROLMENT 2026/2027 – GENERAL PROVISIONS

- If a grade for an individual compulsory subject of the general matura (mother tongue, foreign language, or mathematics) is not stated on the applicant's final certificate, the grade from the final year of secondary school in that subject shall be taken into account when determining overall achievement. If the applicant did not take the required subject in the final year, they shall receive zero (0) points for that subject. An applicant may also take an examination in an individual subject in Slovenia in accordance with the provisions of the General Matura Act or abroad. In such cases, appropriate proof of having passed the examination must be submitted.
- If the candidate's final certificate does not state a grade for a specifically required subject of the compulsory part of the general matura (mother tongue, foreign language, and mathematics), as defined by the selection criteria for a particular study programme, the grade from that subject in the final year of secondary school shall be taken into account. If the applicant did not take the required subject in the final year, they shall receive zero (0) points for that subject. An applicant may also take an examination in an individual subject in Slovenia in accordance with the provisions of the General Matura Act or abroad. In such cases, appropriate proof of having passed the examination must be submitted.
- If the candidate's final certificate does not state a grade for a specifically required elective subject of the general matura, where such a subject is stipulated by the selection criteria of a particular study programme, the candidate shall receive zero (0) points for that subject. An applicant may also take an examination in an individual subject in Slovenia in accordance with the provisions of the General Matura Act or abroad. In such cases, appropriate proof of having passed the examination must be submitted. Where more than five subjects are included in a recognised general matura, the overall achievement attained in the general matura shall be calculated on the basis of three compulsory subjects (mother tongue, foreign language, and mathematics) and the two highest-graded elective subjects of the general matura.
- If the applicant has taken several subjects corresponding to the required subjects, the highest-graded subject shall be taken into account.
- If, in the country where the certificate was obtained, different levels of difficulty are not available, the scale applicable to the final examination taken in five or four subjects shall be used for calculating the total of converted grades. The maximum total number of points is 25 for five subjects and 20 for four subjects, provided that the applicant has completed three compulsory subjects of the general matura. If the final certificate does not state a grade for an individual compulsory subject of the general matura (mother tongue, foreign language, and mathematics), the grade from the final year of secondary school in that subject shall be taken into account when determining overall achievement. If the applicant did not take the required subject in the final year, they shall receive zero (0) points for that subject.
- For specifically required grades in the subjects of the compulsory part of the general matura (mother tongue, foreign language, and mathematics), in the case of restricted enrolment, additional points are added to the subject grades in accordance with the General Matura Regulations, even in the case of a single-level grading scale (subjects taken at the basic level).
- If it is evident from the certificate that the subject corresponding to a compulsory general matura subject (mother tongue, foreign language, and mathematics) was taken at a higher level of difficulty, additional points are added to the grade in accordance with the General Matura Regulations.
- A foreign language grade obtained abroad is assessed in the same way as if it had been obtained in a secondary school in Slovenia.
- If the applicant did not take a specific matura subject with exactly the same title as those used in Slovenia, but took a similar or related subject (or several such subjects or contents), the grade for that subject is taken into account. A subject with a different title may also be taken into account if the secondary school issues a certificate confirming that it includes the content of the required subject.
- Assessment of achievement in the general matura with three compulsory subjects that applicants may take at the higher level: in the total number of points, the three subjects of the compulsory part of the general matura are taken into account. For subjects taken at the higher level, additional points are added according to the rule: 2 + 1, 3 + 2, 4 + 2, 5 + 3. The overall grade is calculated using the formula: overall achievement = converted grade 1 + converted grade 2 + converted grade 3 × $\sqrt{2}$ (1.41). The maximum number of points is 34.

CALL FOR ENROLMENT 2026/2027 – GENERAL PROVISIONS

- Assessment of achievement in the general matura with three compulsory subjects that applicants may take only at one (basic) level: in the total number of points, the three subjects of the compulsory part of the general matura are taken into account. The sum of the grades from the three subjects is taken into account. The maximum possible number of points is 15.
- If a negative grade is recorded for an individual subject on the general matura certificate, but the certificate shows that the student has passed the general matura, the holder of the certificate shall receive zero points for that subject. The total number of points achieved is calculated by adding together the grades for all subjects listed on the final certificate (including the negative grade, which counts as zero points). The applicant's total number of points shall be compared with the maximum possible number of points.
- Where there are more than five subjects in a recognised general matura, the overall score is calculated as the sum of five subjects, namely three subjects from the common (compulsory) part of the general matura and two elective subjects. The maximum possible number of points is 34 (where subjects are taken at different levels, i.e. basic and higher level) or 25 (where subjects are taken only at the basic level).

7. Assessment of achievement in the European Baccalaureate

For applicants who completed upper secondary education under the European Schools programme, grades from the European Baccalaureate certificate or annual reports are converted into grades of the Slovenian upper secondary grading scale in accordance with the Rules on the Inclusion from the Educational Programme of the European Schools into the Slovenian Education System (Official Gazette of the Republic of Slovenia No. 25/17).

The European Baccalaureate certificate is, by law, equivalent to the general matura certificate in Slovenia and therefore no recognition procedure is required.

8. Evaluation of Achievement in International Baccalaureate

For the assessment of achievement in the International Baccalaureate, the provisions of the Rules on the Implementation of the International Baccalaureate Programme (Official Gazette of the Republic of Slovenia, No. 67/04, as amended) apply.

Under the law, the International Baccalaureate (IB) diploma is equivalent to the General Matura Certificate in Slovenia, and no recognition procedure is required.
