

© Spiros-Gioldasis

INTERNATIONAL
HELLENIC
UNIVERSITY

www.ihu.edu.gr | Thessaloniki

Summer School 2013

Thessaloniki, Greece

01-12.07.2013

Accommodation and fees

Participation fees

The tuition fees cost 550 euros.

Participants are free to choose accommodation from a variety of options, with prices starting from 100 euros for the whole 2 weeks.

Participants are responsible for their travel expenses.

Discounts and fellowships

-10%: early birds (for registration until 30 April 2013)

-20%: Charles University students & International Hellenic University students

A number of fellowships for travel, accommodation and the waiving of tuition fees are available based upon merit and financial need.

Application Procedure

In order to apply, you need to:

- Fill in the online application form
- Send a short curriculum vitae to k.karaiskou@ihu.edu.gr

All applicants will be notified of admission decisions by e-mail, in the next 10 working days upon receiving of their application.

For details and more information please visit the website: www.hum.ihu.edu.gr

Nationalism, Religion and Violence in SE Europe

FACULTY OF SOCIAL SCIENCES
Charles University in Prague

Nationalism, Religion and Violence in SE Europe

Summary of course

The International Hellenic University (www.ihu.gr), in partnership with Charles University of Prague, Peace Research Institute Oslo (PRIO) of Cyprus and with the support of the LSEE - Research on South Eastern Europe is offering a 2-week intensive Summer School for Students of Political Science, History, Anthropology, Sociology, International Relations, International Law, Journalism and other related disciplines. The course can be taken by both undergraduates and graduate students.

The general theme of the summer school is Nationalism, Religion and Violence in SE Europe. A key goal of the summer school is to contribute in a substantial way to the study of violence and to catalyse the growth of the study of violence as a field. Furthermore, participants will have the opportunity to forge valuable connections with one another and with senior scholars working on various aspects of violence.

Structure of the Programme

General structure

The summer school will focus on five different but interconnected themes:

- Genocide, Ethnic Cleansing and Mass Atrocities
- Political Violence: Legacies and Debates
- Religion and politics: Islam, Judaism and Christianity between tolerance and conflict
- National Self-Imagining in the Era of Globalisation
- Institutional accommodation of nationalism, religion and political violence

Participants

Guest Lecturers*

Rebecca Bryant, LSE
Carolyn Dean, Yale University
James Ker-Lindsay, LSE
Katerina Kralova, Charles University
Nikos Marantzidis, University of Macedonia
Antony Molho, European University Institute
Paris Papamichos-Chronakis, Brown University
Nikos Skoutaris, LSE
Ioannis Stefanidis, Aristotle University
Igor Stiks, University of Edinburgh

\ more participants to be announced soon*

Programme Directors

Basil C. Gounaris, International Hellenic University
Nikos Skoutaris, Hellenic Observatory, London School of Economics

Programme Committee

Giorgos Antoniou, International Hellenic University
Katerina Kralova, Institute of International Studies, Charles University Prague
Harry Tzimitras, Peace Research Institute Oslo, Cyprus

Working Hours

10:00 – 14:00 & 15:00-17:00

Every theme will be discussed over two or three consecutive days by a number of senior academics and summer school participants. Overall, the summer school will take place over 10 days, 60 working hours, plus a 30-hour workload of individual work on research projects and fieldwork trips.

Course Credits

A certificate of attendance will be provided, at the end of the programme to all participants. Students/Graduates will obtain 4 ECTS credits for completing the course. Those that will have delivered an oral presentation (for example, the presentation of their research project) on a topic of their choice (guided by the summer school instructors) will receive up to 6 ECTS credits. Since degree requirements vary among universities, students/graduates are advised to ensure, preferably in advance, that their college or university will recognise such certification and award the suggested credits.